Tampa, Florida Jul 7, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Metalcore Has a New King ????

American metalcore artist and emerging TikTok creator Hakuten is rapidly making waves in the world of heavy music and emotional EDM fusion. Blending crushing metalcore guitar riffs with atmospheric EDM drops, Hakuten's latest album Edm X Metalcore (released May 10, 2025) has quickly gained traction across TikTok, YouTube, and streaming services ([\[iheart.com\]](https://www.iheart.com)[1], [\[music.apple.com\]](https://music.apple.com)[2]).

Within weeks, tracks like "Rise as One," "Shattered," and "Leve Ansanm (Rise as One)" have been featured in dozens of fan-made TikToks, praised for their cinematic orchestration, heartfelt lyrics, and intense breakdowns ([\[iheart.com\]](https://www.iheart.com)[1]). The album showcases Hakuten's signature style: raw emotion meets aggressive soundscapes.

“The Perfect Curse Called Love is about how love can destroy you and save you at the same time,” Hakuten explains. “It’s raw, it’s real—that constant fight between holding on and letting go.”

A self-taught musician and creative force, Hakuten has carved a niche at the intersection of EDM, metalcore, and alternative rock, attracting fans of Bring Me The Horizon, Sullivan King, and I See Stars. His 10-track debut, produced by Richard Rawald, features both English and Haitian Creole songs like “M’ap Mache Avè W” and “Leve Ansanm (Rise as One)”, reflecting a multicultural depth ([youtube.com][3]).

Available now on platforms like Spotify, YouTube, Apple Music, Amazon Music, SoundCloud, and TikTok, Hakuten is quickly building momentum. His presence on SoundCloud includes the full Edm X Metalcore album, showcasing his range across electronic rock and metalcore fusion ([soundcloud.com][4]).

With new singles like The Perfect Curse Called Love and more releases planned for late 2025, Hakuten is an artist poised to bridge genres and emotions—drawing listeners into a soundscape where heavy guitars and digital synths collide with breathtaking intensity.
