

My Journey with Cancer & How I Kicked its Ass in 4 Weeks by Ivy Supersonic

The Supersonic Diet: Kicking Cancers Ass One Meal at a Time

Uniontown, Pennsylvania Jun 12, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Ivy Supersonic was diagnosed with Cancer on January 3, 2025, after the biopsy came back from her surgery on December 19, 2024, for a 15-pound mass; the size of a watermelon. Ivy was advised to start Radiation and Chemotherapy at the end of January, followed by Immunotherapy. She went for a second opinion & was told the same.

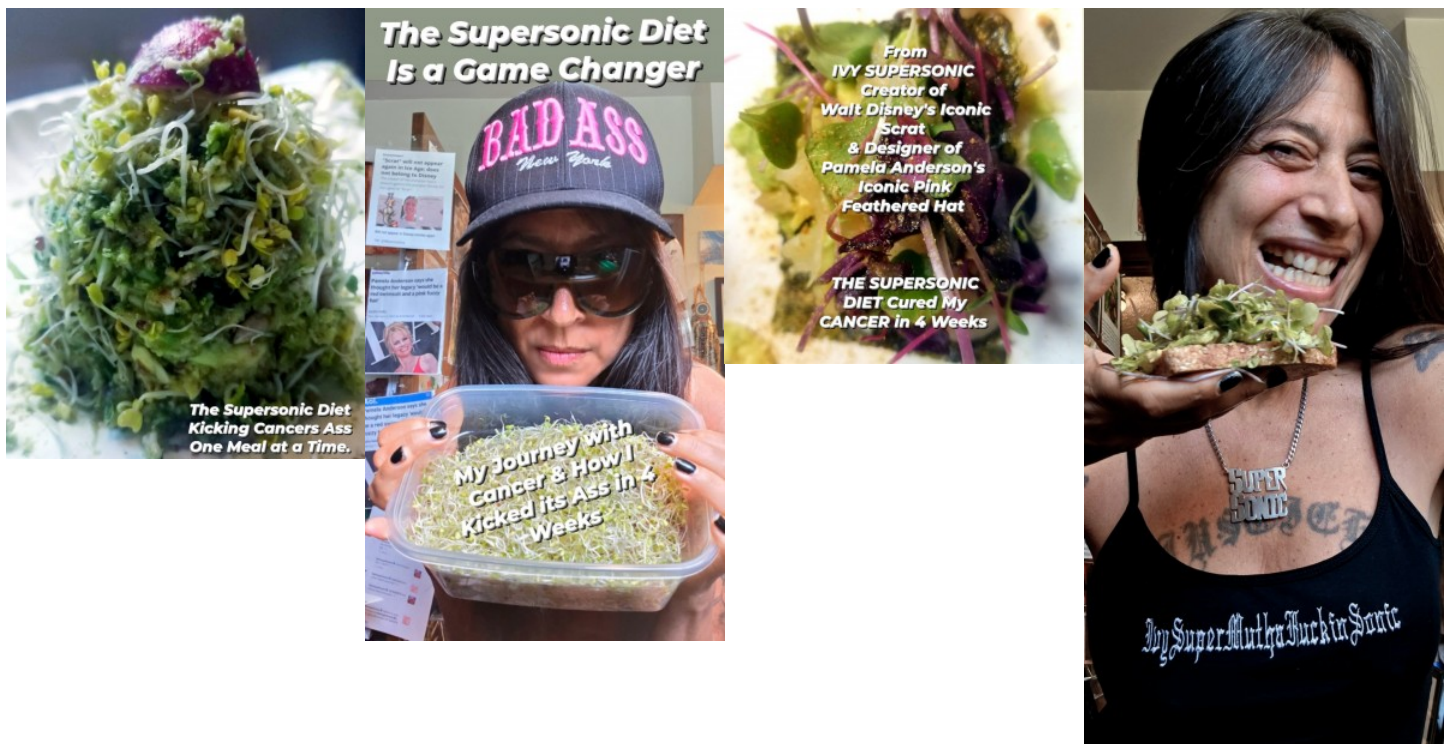

January 25, 2025 Ivy went on The Supersonic Diet: Kicking Cancer's Ass One Meal at a Time. 34 days later... NO sign of Disease. Ivy is now in Remission. The Supersonic Diet is a Game Changer! Ivy Supersonic hopes those who read her book will experience the same Miracle GOD blessed her with.

Ivy's mother, Lillian Dennett, passed away on July 2, 2005. This July marks 20 years since Lillian went to Heaven. In June of 2005, Ivy's mom was diagnosed with cancer. Ivy never told her. She believed there was a cure. She believed she could find it and save her-but Ivy didn't have enough time.

In 2010, Ivy began a journey of relentless research and study. What Ivy didn't realize was that she'd first have to save herself. The experience has now given Ivy the power and purpose to help others. Ivy dedicates her book, "My Journey with Cancer & How I Kicked Its Ass in 4 Weeks" to her Yiddishe Mama- Mama Supersonic.

"My Journey with Cancer & How I Kicked Its Ass in 4 Weeks," by Ivy Supersonic is On Sale Now at Barnes & Noble and Amazon.
