

Peruvian Jiu-Jitsu Expert Pierre Loarte Coaches at IBJJF Worlds

Long Beach, California Jun 6, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Renowned Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu instructor Pierre Loarte, one of Peru's most respected martial arts coaches, has reached a new milestone in his career, coaching at the prestigious IBJJF World Jiu-Jitsu Championship. Loarte had the honor of cornering Bridgett Brumbaugh, a rising star representing Active Jiu-Jitsu, at this year's competition.

Loarte, a seasoned athlete and coach, has earned recognition for his extensive work developing high-level talent across three continents. His coaching journey began in his native Peru, extended to Brazil, where he honed his skills in the cradle of jiu-jitsu and now continues in the United States, where he is becoming a vital figure in the competitive BJJ scene.

"Coaching at IBJJF Worlds is a dream for many, and I'm grateful to live that dream while supporting Bridgett's campaign," said Loarte. "It's a testament to years of hard work, sacrifice, and dedication to the art."

In addition to his professional accolades, Loarte is also known for his charity work, using jiu-jitsu as a tool to empower underserved communities in. His holistic approach to the sport, balancing elite competition with mentorship and service, has earned him deep respect both on and off the mats.

Bridgett Brumbaugh, under Loarte's guidance, brought grit and technical prowess to the world stage, reinforcing Loarte's reputation as a coach who brings out the best in his athletes.

As he continues to impact the U.S. jiu-jitsu landscape, Pierre Loarte remains committed to elevating his students and spreading the values of discipline, respect, and resilience that define the sport.
