

R&B Legend Jermaine Mickey Returns with Sultry New Single “All This Love” — Out July 5th, 2025

Washington, D.C, District of Columbia Jun 23, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - R&B fans, get ready. Acclaimed vocalist Jermaine Mickey, best known as a founding member of the platinum-selling group II D Extreme, is making his highly anticipated return with a brand-new single, “All This Love”, releasing worldwide on July 5, 2025. The single offers a modern spin on classic R&B, blending soul-soaked melodies, real instrumentation, and heartfelt lyrics that showcase Jermaine's signature vocal style.

Co-written and produced by Geno Starr, and featuring a powerful rap verse by P, “All This Love” is a timeless expression of passion and vulnerability—marking a bold step into a new era for the veteran artist.

Jermaine Mickey’s career began in the Washington, D.C. area, where his love for music was ignited at the age of five as a drummer in his family group, Stimulations. His rise to fame came as a member of the iconic 90s R&B trio II D Extreme, alongside Randy Gill (brother of R&B legend Johnny Gill) and D’Extra Wiley. Their hit single “Cry No More” went gold, and their soulful sound captured audiences with tracks like “Up on the Roof” and “If I Knew Then What I Know Now.”

Jermaine’s talent has taken him to the global stage with performances on The Arsenio Hall Show, The Tonight Show with Jay Leno, BET, MTV, Soul Train, and the legendary Apollo Theater. His career includes international tours to Amsterdam, London, Japan, and the Caribbean, and collaborative work as a background vocalist on several acclaimed projects.

In addition to music, Jermaine has pursued a flourishing acting career with standout roles in independent stage plays such as “Who Can I Run To” and “Through The Rain”, produced by Tanya Blunt of Sister Act fame.

Now, Jermaine is embracing a full-circle moment. With the upcoming EP “Definition of Love” in the works, “All This Love” sets the tone for a series of releases that promise to remind R&B lovers why Jermaine Mickey remains a vital force in the genre.

All This Love will be available on all major digital platforms on July 5, 2025.
