

SPA Furniture Unveils Its Latest Wellness Solutions Featuring Premium Massage Beds and Electric Esthetician Beds

SPA Furniture, a trusted Indian manufacturer and exporter of luxury spa and salon furnishings, announces the official launch of its upgraded collection of massage and treatment beds.

Gurgaon, Haryana Jun 26, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Setting the Benchmark in Massage Bed Manufacturing

SPA Furniture has been supplying massage beds to wellness professionals for over a decade. Their range includes fixed wooden massage tables, Ayurvedic beds, multi-purpose treatment couches, and a line of comfortably designed electric spa tables. Their clients include premium resorts, destination spas, day spas, and skincare centres.

This year, the company has expanded its offerings with several upgraded models featuring smart design enhancements and improved client comfort. The entire range is manufactured using seasoned hardwood, water-resistant PU foam, soft upholstery, and eco-friendly finishes, ensuring long-term durability even in humid environments.

As a recognised Massage Bed Supplier, SPA Furniture offers a range that caters to different therapy needs:

- Classic wooden massage tables for general body massage and therapy sessions
- Shirodhara and Abhyanga tables are specifically made for Ayurvedic treatments
- Portable foldable beds for mobile therapists or studios with limited space
- Electric spa tables for contemporary spas looking for automation and control

Each model is built with precision joinery and offers customisation. From finishes and stains to cushioning colours, every aspect can be tailored to suit the interior themes of wellness spaces. This ensures the beds are functional tools and visual assets to the space.

Advanced Solutions: The Rise of the Electric Esthetician Bed

SPA Furniture's electric esthetician bed has quickly become a preferred choice for skincare clinics, medispas, and dermatology studios. As skincare services become more advanced and demand for non-invasive beauty treatments increases, estheticians are seeking equipment that offers flexibility and ease without compromising client relaxation.

The electric esthetician bed from SPA Furniture is designed with the practitioner in mind. Featuring silent motors and intuitive control panels, these beds allow smooth height adjustments and tilt functions. The backrest and leg-rest angles can be changed easily, allowing facialists and therapists to work comfortably during long treatment sessions.

Some key features include:

- A robust hardwood frame that adds stability while enhancing aesthetic value
- Ergonomically placed electric controls for effortless position changes
- Memory foam cushioning layered with soft, medical-grade PU leather

- Additional accessories such as armrests, face cradles, and neck cushions
- Optional heating element for added comfort during longer treatments

Therapists who have adopted this model have noticed improved posture, reduced fatigue, and better client feedback thanks to smoother treatment transitions and increased comfort.

Custom-Built for Global Wellness Standards

SPA Furniture offers custom production capabilities. Every massage bed or esthetician table can be customised to suit your specific needs in terms of size, finish, and function. This level of personalisation enables luxury spas and clinics to express their brand identity while meeting practical requirements effectively.

All products are handcrafted in SPA Furniture's manufacturing unit located in Gurugram, India. The production process uses sustainable materials, safe working methods, and tested fabrication techniques that comply with global export norms. For international clients, the company ensures export-quality packaging and offers logistical support to ensure safe delivery to destinations across Europe, Asia, the Middle East, and Australia.

Sustainability in Spa Furniture Design

As wellness clients increasingly prioritise sustainability, SPA Furniture has responded with conscious choices in materials and processes. The brand uses low-VOC water-based wood stains and PU lacquers. All wood used is ethically sourced and seasoned using traditional air-drying methods, reducing energy consumption.

Cushioning options include both standard PU leather and eco-friendly alternatives made from recycled materials. In-house production limits waste and carbon emissions. Rather than prioritising disposability, SPA Furniture believes in creating long-lasting products that support environmental responsibility while offering exceptional quality and value.

Trusted by Luxury Brands Worldwide

SPA Furniture's client list features many of the world's most respected hospitality and wellness brands. Over the years, they have furnished spas for prominent hotel groups, including Marriott, Hyatt, Four Seasons, Six Senses, and ITC Hotels. Boutique retreats in Europe, high-end Ayurveda centres in India, and modern aesthetic clinics in the UAE are among their repeat clients.

These businesses return to SPA Furniture because of its reliability, personalised service, and adherence to deadlines. In the competitive wellness sector, the ability to deliver furniture that aligns with both design and performance expectations is a crucial advantage.

What's Next for SPA Furniture

SPA Furniture is constantly innovating itself. Their research and development team is currently working on integrating digital features into future models. These could include app-based control for electric beds, treatment presets, session time indicators, and even client comfort tracking.

The company is also preparing to introduce a compact electric bed designed for home-visit therapists and urban clinics where space is limited. Additionally, SPA Furniture is expanding its dealer network in Latin America and Southeast Asia to serve emerging spa markets better.

Comprehensive Support for Professionals

Apart from supplying high-quality furniture, SPA Furniture offers:

- Consultative product selection based on treatment types and space
- Bespoke furniture development with collaborative design support
- Post-purchase assistance, including maintenance guidelines and spare parts
- Warranty coverage and training for electric bed usage

Wellness professionals appreciate this comprehensive approach, which ensures that the furniture investment continues to deliver value for years to come.

Leadership Perspective

Co-founder Rohit Sharma shared his vision for the company:

"Our goal has always been to help wellness professionals create meaningful, effective, and comfortable experiences for their clients. Whether it's through our role as Massage Bed Suppliers or with advanced solutions like the electric esthetician bed, we focus on merging design and function. We believe in providing equipment that respects the therapist's effort and the client's expectations."
