

The Treat Bitch Unveils Deliciously Guilt-Free Sweets Featuring Edible Cookie Dough and Sugar Free Caramel Candy

Raleigh, North Carolina Jun 21, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Satisfying the sweet tooth and the health foodie at the same time, The Treat Bitch is releasing its newest additions to its treat line: edible cookie dough and sugar-free caramel candy. These are specifically catered to the contemporary snacker who wants indulgence without sacrifice, now available on their official store.

Guilt-Free Cookie Dough That Tastes Like Nostalgia

Few things evoke more nostalgia than sneaking a spoonful of cookie dough from the bowl. The Treat Bitch's edible cookie dough elevates this comfort food to a whole new level, offering an egg-free, safe-to-eat version crafted with the highest-quality ingredients. Individually portioned and ready to devour straight from the jar, this is a great treat for kids, adults, and anyone in need of a sweet pick-me-up.

What sets this edible cookie dough apart is its texture, flavor, and versatility. Whether enjoyed alone, used as a topping for ice cream, or baked into other treats, this dough is crafted for maximum pleasure. It delivers all the indulgence of traditional cookie dough, minus the risks.

The Sweetness of Caramel, Without the Sugar

For those who believed that giving up sugar would mean depriving them of the creamy richness of caramel, think no more. The Treat Bitch sugar free caramel candy is a lifesaver for the health crowd and diabetics everywhere. Formulated with great care to preserve a smooth, melt-in-your-mouth texture, these candies employ alternative sweeteners to craft the ultimate guilt-free pleasure.

Now you can indulge in that rich, caramelized taste you desire without sacrificing spikes in sugar levels. Whether you need to suppress your cravings, reduce sugar intake, or stay on track with dietary requirements, this sugar-free caramel candy is a smart and delicious choice.

Clean Ingredients, Big Flavor, Bold Packaging

Both the sugar free caramel candy and edible cookie dough are evidence of The Treat Bitch's dedication to flavor, quality, and humor. Crafted from high-quality, responsibly produced ingredients, these snacks are free of all unnecessary preservatives and additives. The brand's eye-catching, in-your-face packaging directly addresses those snack enthusiasts who are serious about their snacking—but who also want to smile.

As per The Treat Bitch's product development group, the brand has taken months experimenting with flavors and tweaking formulas to make every bite stand out. The aim was to produce treats that not only serve on flavor but also are in line with the dietary requirements and desires of today's consumers.

Indulgence Meets Wellness on One Sweet Platform

As the trend for health-conscious confections grows, The Treat Bitch is happy to provide treats that don't compromise flavor for health. Its new offerings enable customers to indulge guiltlessly, providing anything from keto desserts to retro bites given a current spin.

About The Treat Bitch

The Treat Bitch is a fearless, flavor-first brand that thinks snacking can be fun, fabulous, and guilt-free. Expert in weird and healthy sweets, the brand is remaking indulgence for a new era. With an ever-expanding library of candies, cookie doughs, and beyond, The Treat Bitch shows that treating yourself doesn't have to mean compromising yourself.

Media Contact

The Treat Bitch

@thetreatbitch.com

09199463666

333 N Raleigh St

Source : The Treat Bitch

See on IssueWire