

Treasure Team Zeroes In on Al Capone's Lost Fortune: $100 Million Hunt Begins in Forgotten Florida Hideout

Miami Beach, Florida Jun 15, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - THE HUNT FOR AL CAPONE'S MISSING MILLIONS BEGINS

Treasure Hunters Launch New Expedition to Recover Buried Safe Deposit Keys Believed to Hold Over $100 Million in Lost Riches

After decades of mystery and fruitless searches through Al Capone's infamous Miami Beach mansion, a new chapter begins in the hunt for one of America's greatest lost fortunes. A daring team known as The Real Treasure Hunters, a division of Treasure Quest Corporation, has launched a bold expedition to recover what could be over $100 million in hidden wealth linked to the legendary gangster.

The group has uncovered what they believe is a long-forgotten hideout tied directly to Capone's secret movements across Florida. Through extensive research, analysis of historical records, and newly unearthed intelligence, the team believes they've pinpointed the location where Capone buried a metal box containing keys to numerous safe deposit boxes, along with other critical documents—potentially unlocking the secrets to his concealed empire.

"We're not just chasing rumors," said a representative of The Real Treasure Hunters. "We have hard evidence, credible maps, and on-the-ground validation. The site we're about to search hasn't been touched in nearly a century. This could be the real deal."

With previous searches coming up empty in Miami Beach, attention has now turned inland to remote hideouts Capone is believed to have used in the 1920s and 1930s. These rural outposts, often overlooked, served as key waypoints in his operations during Prohibition.

The expedition will be documented as part of an ongoing investigation into America's most elusive hidden treasures. The team will be utilizing ground-penetrating radar, archival material, and cutting-edge detection technology in their pursuit.

The hunt for Al Capone's riches starts now.
