

Why Do Bad Things Happen to Good People? New Book Brings Timely Answers Through Faith and Global Ministry

Rev. Dr. Joe T.A. Nwokoye Draws from Scripture, Personal Loss, and Cross-Continental Experience to Guide Readers Through Suffering with Wisdom and Hope

Glendale, California Jul 28, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - In an age marked by uncertainty, division, and personal loss, one question refuses to fade: Why do bad things happen to good people? In his deeply personal and spiritually grounded new book, acclaimed pastor, global humanitarian, and interfaith leader Rev. Dr. Joe T.A. Nwokoye offers a thoughtful exploration of suffering, faith, and redemption — not through platitudes, but through the lived truth of scripture, experience, and service.

Titled “Why Do Bad Things Happen to Good People?”, the book is a powerful blend of biblical reflection, narrative theology, and real-world insight drawn from Rev. Nwokoye’s 30+ years of ministry across Africa, Europe, North America, and Asia. With pastoral clarity and global perspective, he guides readers through some of life’s most difficult terrain — grief, injustice, loss, and doubt — pointing toward the quiet courage and spiritual resilience that hardship can awaken.

“The darkest places in life,” Rev. Nwokoye writes, “are often the very places where the light finds us first.”

From the trials of Job and Joseph to the transformational leadership of Nelson Mandela and Pope Francis, Rev. Nwokoye draws a deeply human and spiritually mature roadmap for those grappling with the unfairness of life. The book is neither academic nor simplistic — it is a bridge between faith and experience, scripture and story, pain and possibility.

Each chapter invites readers to ask better questions, not seek faster answers. Through testimony, historical insight, and pastoral wisdom, Rev. Nwokoye offers readers a place to wrestle with suffering — not as divine punishment, but as an invitation into deeper purpose, character, and connection.

About the Author

Rev. Dr. Joe T.A. Nwokoye is an internationally respected pastor, author, and humanitarian. He is the Founder and Senior Pastor of Zion Praise Centre International, with congregations in Nigeria, the United Kingdom, India, the United States, and Gabon. He also leads The Zion Foundation, a charitable organization dedicated to humanitarian relief and spiritual development across underserved communities.

Born in Nigeria and now residing in Scotland, Rev. Nwokoye has spent over three decades serving across cultures, continents, and crises. His prior works — including It’s a Crazy World Out There! and God Will Do It for You: Don’t Give Up — have been embraced by readers seeking bold faith in uncertain times.

His work has received national and international recognition:

- Featured guest on KUTV Salt Lake City’s “Fresh Living”
- Recipient of a personal letter of recognition from the White House \(2019\)
- Speaker at major interfaith and Christian leadership conferences globally

About the Publisher

InkTrail Press, based in California, USA, is the official publisher of Why Do Bad Things Happen to Good People?. A boutique publishing house and literary marketing agency, InkTrail Press is committed to elevating voices of substance, especially those that spark spiritual, cultural, and emotional transformation. The company provides strategic support for editorial development, author branding, and media engagement — ensuring authors like Rev. Nwokoye reach both traditional publishers and a global audience.

Availability

Why Do Bad Things Happen to Good People? is now available in paperback and eBook formats through:

- Amazon
- Barnes & Noble
- ChristianBook.com
- Books-A-Million
- And other major online retailers worldwide

For Media Inquiries, Interviews, or Speaking Engagements:

Media Contact

Inktrail Press

@inktrailpress.com

(323) 606-0684

330 N Brand Blvd, STE 700

Source : Inktrail Press

See on IssueWire