Back to Music with Legendary, Terry Luttrell, Original Lead Singer for REO Speedwagon
Released from hospital today after near tragic car accident.

Today, Terry Luttrell is scheduled to be discharged from the hospital following his car accident earlier this month. Which occurred while he was en route from the REO Speedwagon reunion show, with all the original founding members, at the State Farm Center in Champaign, IL. He stayed well after the concert to greet the numerous fans who were eager to speak with him and obtain autographs.

Doctors have indicated that he will make a full recovery, and is returning to Nashville. Terry continues to sing his beloved songs daily in anticipation of performing again with his band, the REO Classics Band.

In other music news, the band is set to perform a series of upcoming shows this year and next, bringing all the classic REO Speedwagon hits back to fans with the original lead singer.

To all the devoted fans who cherish REO Speedwagon, we are excited to offer a Special Edition Red Vinyl Album, meticulously mastered and cut for vinyl at the renowned Abbey Road Studios in London.
