

Bitcoin is about to hit 6 trillion market value! DL Mining cloud mining opens up new wealth opportunities

Four major drivers of Bitcoin surge

San Diego, California Jul 18, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Bitcoin breaks through the $110,000 mark, with a target price of $130,000 in August

Bitcoin continues to lead the crypto market, with the current price standing at $110,000. Analysts predict that it is expected to hit a new high of $130,000 in August, pushing the market value towards $6 trillion.

In this wave of market conditions, DL Mining, the world's leading cloud mining platform, is redefining the way of cryptocurrency mining with its innovative technology, environmental protection concept and global layout, allowing individuals and enterprises to easily participate in this digital gold rush.

Four major drivers of Bitcoin surge

The latest data shows that the bullish sentiment in the Bitcoin options market is high, pushing prices to new highs. This round of market is mainly driven by the following factors:

Institutions are accelerating their entry - hedge fund allocation demand surges

Investors seek alternatives to traditional assets

Bitcoin halving is imminent, and scarcity is highlighted

Innovative platforms such as DL Mining lower the threshold for global mining

As the market trend changes, this round of bull market is expected to surpass historical records, among which cloud mining will become a key growth engine.
