

Dr. Nicholas Tsambassis Enhances Internal Medicine Care in Tullahoma, TN

Board-certified internist brings personalized, comprehensive adult healthcare services to the Heart of Tennessee

New York City, New York Jul 11, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Nicholas Tsambassis has been a full-time physician at Volunteer Healing Centers, LLC, previously known as Emergence of Tullahoma, since July of 2019. After completing the required training provided by the American Society of Addiction Medicine (ASAM), Dr. Tsambassis was qualified to deliver medication-assisted treatment (MAT) to patients suffering from opioid use disorder, and this service is the primary function of Volunteer Healing

Centers.

Dr. Tsambassis earned his medical degree from Ross University School of Medicine and completed a dual residency in pediatrics and internal medicine, obtaining board certification in his specialty. He anticipates sitting for the certification exam in Addiction Medicine, administered through the American Board of Preventive Medicine, in October of 2025.

At Volunteer Healing Centers, Dr. Tsambassis is known for his warm bedside manner, attentive listening, and patient-centered collaboration. He performs comprehensive evaluations, coordinates care with specialists as needed, and offers clear guidance on preventive strategies. His holistic approach ensures that each patient's care plan is customized to their unique needs, goals, and lifestyle.

In addition to his clinical role, Dr. Tsambassis is engaged in community health and education. He also supervises the operations of Cumberland Weight Loss in Clarksville, Tennessee. He anticipates adding primary care to the services of Volunteer Healing Centers, which already performs CMAT and Brain Check testing to complement existing treatments. Telehealth is also available for those patients who are unable to present for a face-to-face visit.
