

Drakon Sports Launches Next-Gen Baseball Elbow Guard with Pro-Level Protection at Low Price

The Woodlands, Texas Jul 14, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Drakon Sports Apparel, the popular athlete-driven brand, today revealed its latest piece of protective equipment - "The Drakon Baseball Elbow Guard". This item is designed for hitters who prioritize both safety and mobility. This unique guard has an ultra-light composite shell with form-fitting impact foam that can absorb up to 90% of bat-side blows without limiting the player's swing path.

The launch price is $55, and there are five size options ranging from S to XXL. This unique product delivers the latest technology to every game level, from youth travel ball to expert ranks. A representative of Drakon Sports Apparel commented on the launch of their latest product, 'Our new elbow guard protects the joint, the body part that is punished the most during a baseball game.'

Top Features

- Reactive Flex-Foam Core: The inner layer of the elbow pad is always soft and pliable until contact. It becomes stiff when eliminating pitch speeds up to 95 mph; after that, it returns to its original state during the next swing.
- Geared Up Custom Fit: Top athletes can choose from any of the five ready-to-wear sizes. The guard can be shaped using warm water to get a custom fit in less than five minutes.
- Moisture-Wicking Sleeve/ Dual-Strap Closure: A breathable sleeve along with adjustable straps, can keep the elbow guard firmly in place. This way, it won't slip or move even during hard swings.
- Lightweight Protective Shell: The aerospace-grade polymer outer plate distributes across a wider area compared to common hard plastic. It also trims the total weight to only 7oz while maintaining the MLB-level impact resistance.
