

Flytest.ai Launches Free Web Testing for Small Teams

Flytest.ai introduces a free web testing platform for small teams, with enterprise options.

Bengaluru, Karnataka Jul 29, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Flytest.ai is excited to announce the alpha launch of its new web testing platform, offering a powerful and intuitive solution for quality assurance. Designed with efficiency in mind, Flytest.ai provides a comprehensive suite of tools to streamline the testing process, ensuring robust and reliable web applications.

Understanding the unique needs of small teams and startups, Flytest.ai is committed to offering its web

testing capabilities free forever for small teams. This initiative aims to empower growing businesses with access to high-quality testing tools without the burden of subscription costs.

"We believe that effective testing shouldn't be a luxury," says a spokesperson for Flytest.ai. "Our goal is to democratize access to advanced web testing, allowing teams of all sizes to deliver exceptional digital experiences."

Flytest.ai is actively working on the beta version of its web testing platform, which will introduce enhanced features and further refinements based on user feedback. In addition to web testing, the company also confirms that mobile testing capabilities are currently under development, promising a unified testing solution across multiple platforms in the near future.

For larger organizations with more extensive requirements, Flytest.ai offers custom pricing for enterprise-level solutions, providing tailored packages to meet specific needs and scale.

We invite small teams to experience the benefits of Flytest.ai today and join us in shaping the future of testing.
