

Freedom is the New Currency- Your Plan B Starts Here

The Global Property Expo 2025 is your opportunity to design a life with more sun, more space, and more freedom. And at the heart of the experience? International Property Alerts (IPA)

Singapore, Singapore Jul 12, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - In one of the world's most forward-thinking cities, many high achievers still find themselves asking: what's next?

You've worked hard. You've planned well. But as costs rise and space tightens, more individuals and families are looking outward—for lifestyle upgrades, wealth diversification, and long-term security.

The Global Property Expo 2025 is your opportunity to design a life with more sun, more space, and more freedom. And at the heart of the experience? International Property Alerts (IPA)—presenting access to over 5,000 handpicked properties across 10 of the world's most liveable and investable destinations.

From resort-style villas to Golden Visa-approved homes, IPA connects lifestyle seekers and investors with real opportunities to live well and grow globally.

Why Smart Investors Are Looking Abroad

In today's market, your dollar has never had more potential overseas. For the price of a small condo in a dense city, you could own a beachfront villa in Bali or a fully managed apartment in Phuket—with room to breathe, rent out, or one day retire to.

International property isn't about escape—it's about leverage. It's about transforming your hard-earned savings into something far greater: a tangible asset, passive income, and a better way of life.

In IPA's top destinations like Thailand and Indonesia, the numbers speak for themselves:

- Condos from $100,000 in Thailand
- Villas from $130,000 in Bali
- Rental yields up to 19% in top-performing zones
- Living costs are up to 60% lower than in many developed cities
- 300+ days of sunshine in Bali, Spain, and Mexico

Whether you're planning for retirement, seeking a second home, or building generational wealth, international real estate lets your money go further—and your lifestyle grow richer.

IPA offers specialised, research-driven Buyers Guides for every country in its portfolio. Each guide delivers a clear snapshot of the local property market—covering trends, high-potential areas, and top-value opportunities. It also includes expert tips on working with agents and legal teams, real-life expat insights, and practical guidance on visas, cost of living, tax, and relocation—everything you need to buy with confidence and plan your move abroad.

Smart investors are looking beyond borders—toward places where their money works harder, where quality of life is richer, and where real estate is more than a purchase—it's a passport to possibility. With expert support and trusted global partners, IPA makes this journey not only simple but secure.
