Avondale, Arizona Jul 26, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - In 2025, Gavest Global Ventures Inc. officially announced the completion of its brand upgrade and its full entry into the fields of artificial intelligence (AI) and digital asset investment. Building on more than two decades of global asset management experience, Gavest has adopted a new brand structure to seize the opportunities brought by financial technology and blockchain, embarking on a forward-looking global strategy.

Gavest traces its roots back to 1998, originally operating as a family investment enterprise deeply engaged in traditional wealth management, investment banking, and international asset allocation. Over the years, the company has accumulated extensive investment expertise, global resources, and a robust risk management framework, serving high-net-worth clients, family offices, and institutional investors worldwide.

As financial markets continue to evolve, Gavest has formed the newly structured Gavest Global Ventures Inc., preserving its strong foundation in traditional finance while prioritizing strategic investments in AI-powered advisory services, blockchain finance, stablecoins, and the broader digital asset ecosystem.

As part of this transformation, Gavest has made a strategic investment in UIBIT Exchange. UIBIT is a next-generation digital asset trading platform that integrates spot and derivatives trading with AI-driven smart trading signal systems, providing global users with a compliant, secure, and efficient digital finance service.

The senior management of Gavest stated:

“Our goal is not only to build upon more than two decades of expertise but also to create a technology-driven, globally collaborative investment ecosystem. UIBIT’s innovation in technology and products is highly aligned with our strategic vision, enabling us to accelerate our global presence in the digital asset market.”

Looking ahead, Gavest Global Ventures Inc. will continue to leverage its international investment experience and resources, partnering with innovative platforms like UIBIT to build a next-generation investment ecosystem that merges AI and blockchain, providing investors worldwide with solutions that are more valuable, forward-looking, and sustainable.
