New York City, New York Jul 21, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - XRP has broken through $3.4, and DLMining has launched an exclusive mining plan to double the value of your holdings!

Recently, the price of XRP has continued to rise, approaching the historical high of $3.40 again, and the market is bullish. At the same time, DOGE has also remained active with the support of the community, and dual currencies have become the focus of investors. Against this background, DLMining, the world's leading cloud mining platform, officially launched XRP and DOGE exclusive mining channels, providing currency holders with efficient income plans without conversion and direct mining, helping you achieve steady asset appreciation in the bull market!

Golden opportunity for XRP holders: DLMining exclusive cloud mining channel

DLMining keenly captures market trends and specially launches XRP and DOGE dual-currency mining services, combining the original BTC, ETH and other mainstream currencies to create a diversified income matrix.

XRP investors can now enjoy the following unique advantages:

Directly use XRP to participate in mining - no need to exchange, just hold and earn, daily income is automatically settled

High flexibility - income can be withdrawn or reinvested at any time, and the account balance can be operated as long as it reaches $100

Steady returns - professional mining farm hosting, avoiding market volatility risks, and providing stable cash flow

Zero threshold to participate - no mining machine and technical knowledge required, one-click to start passive income
The platform's technical director said: "XRP and DOGE have extremely strong community consensus and market demand. We have specially optimized the mining channels of these two currencies, allowing users to more efficiently activate existing assets."
