

Inside Visionize Capital- The Algorithmic Trading Firm

Delivering Massive Returns, Quietly

Abu Zabi, United Arab Emirates Jul 7, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - (capital.visionize.ae)- For most, trading stocks starts as a hobby. For Mazen Chedid, it became something much more back in 2015.

It began with a single mission: build a repeatable edge in the equity markets; one rooted in structure, not speculation.

What started as a personal pursuit evolved into something bigger and far more profitable.

Years later, while building Visionize Technology, the UAE-based automation firm known for streamlining hotel operations and enterprise integrations, Mazen and his team of developers were quietly developing a second system. Not for clients. For the markets.

Leveraging the in-house team with the help of AI infrastructure, Mazen built a proprietary trading engine that now deploys large capital across global markets with precision, speed, and scale.

The results? Quiet. Consistent. Aggressive. Fueled by advances in technology, and more recently, the help of AI.

Eventually, the engine outperformed every other project, becoming the group's primary revenue driver.

"We don't chase noise or headlines," Mazen says. "Our systems are built on price behaviour and executed without emotion. When returns started compounding aggressively month after month, I knew it wasn't just a side venture anymore."

That system is now formalized as a subsidiary called Visionize Capital — a privately funded algorithmic trading arm generating exceptional returns. The trading arm functions as a subsidiary of Visionize Technology.

So why go public now?

"Because we've built something that works. In a region where this space is still underdeveloped, we felt it was time to raise the bar." Mazen says.

"We know how many aspiring traders and investors are out there, trying to navigate the chaos without real structure or guidance. So, we figured if we've built something real, why not share a glimpse that might help them think and trade differently."

That glimpse is the Live Intelligence Dashboard located on the official website of Visionize Capital; a real-time portal built to sharpen decision-making, highlight opportunity, and show the most important day to day insights which serve the start of any fundamental strategy.

No hype. No signals. No product to buy.

Just a rare look inside some of the basic insights quietly monitored by Visionize; a useful start for any aspiring trader or investor.

"We're not trying to sell anything," Mazen says. "We're just showing what happens when you trade like a firm, not a follower."

Unlike traditional investing, where people buy and hold stocks based on news or long-term trends, Visionize Capital also operates with precision-based algorithms that scan price movements in real time, looking for short-term inefficiencies.

These systems identify high-probability opportunities and execute trades in milliseconds, without emotion or guesswork. It's structured, data-driven, risk-managed and built to move capital fast while generating results that most retail strategies simply can't match.
