Challenges Faced Before Allying With Internal Accounting Services

Manual Payroll Was Causing Errors And Costing Time!

Mr. Liam Miller had been managing payroll in-house on spreadsheets and some conventional software services. By the time the company grew to over 200+ employees, serving 6000 or more customers in multiple locations, the payroll management became more:

- Time-Consuming – The Company's in-house payroll processing and functioning were taking a lot of effort and time.
- Error-Prone – Complaints related to miscalculated salaries, inaccurate tax withholdings, and late submissions were rising.

• Problematic With Respect To Compliance – The in-house payroll team was facing issues keeping up with the ever-changing tax laws and compliance standards.

“We were investing much time and effort on addressing errors instead of doing actual payroll and related integral tasks,” said Mr. Liam Miller, Payroll Manager
