

Jennifer Orrin Joins Stealth HealthTech Startup as Head of Partner Success & Implementation

Registered Nurse and strategic leader to drive scalable deployment and partner integration for cutting-edge digital health solutions

New York City, New York Jul 4, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - A California-based stealth health technology startup is proud to announce Jennifer Orrin, RN, as its new Head of Partner Success & Implementation. With a strong background in clinical care and digital health transformation, Jennifer will lead the company's efforts to streamline partner onboarding, optimize implementation strategies, and ensure long-term success for clients and collaborators across the healthcare ecosystem.

Jennifer is a licensed Registered Nurse with extensive experience bridging the clinical and operational sides of healthcare. Her background spans direct patient care, technology implementation, and leadership roles in provider and vendor settings. Known for her ability to translate complex clinical workflows into scalable tech-enabled solutions, she brings a pragmatic, people-first approach to delivering impact through innovation.

In her role, Jennifer will oversee the end-to-end partner journey—from initial technical integration to long-term adoption and expansion. Her leadership will focus on building trust with health systems, strategic partners, and enterprise clients while designing data-driven success frameworks to ensure measurable outcomes. Her deep understanding of frontline healthcare challenges uniquely positions her to align technology with real-world clinical needs.

Jennifer also plans to lead the development of a Partner Success Operations Hub, providing resources, training, and analytics to support partner growth. She will be instrumental in co-developing best practices and scalable playbooks for pilot deployments, onboarding processes, and customer satisfaction metrics.

As the stealth startup prepares to emerge from stealth mode, Jennifer's appointment reinforces its commitment to delivering high-impact, user-centered solutions to the healthcare industry. Her leadership will help ensure that each partner relationship is built on transparency, empathy, and shared success.

Learn More about Jennifer Orrin:

Through her online profile, <https://todaysnurse.org/nurse/4150090>

Media Contact

Today'sNurse

@todaysnurse.com

Source : Jennifer Orrin

See on IssueWire