

Krank Festival Returns to Aura, Anjuna for Its Sixth Edition This August

Goa, India Jul 21, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Krank It Up!, one of India's most intimate underground techno events, returns to Anjuna Beach from August 15–17, 2025, for its sixth annual edition. The festival is set to take place at its original venue, Aura, continuing its legacy of small-capacity, high-impact experiences centered on underground electronic music.

The sixth edition of Krank It Up! follows five consecutive sold-out events. The Phase 1 lineup includes a range of international and domestic techno artists, highlighting the event's dedication to curating forward-thinking talent. International names confirmed for 2025 include Shall Ocín, known for his analog focused live sets; Sideral, a rising techno artist from Italy; and Almost Human, a cinematic live act. The lineup also features leading Indian electronic artists such as Stoked, Techpanda x Kenzani, Youna, and Realmm.

Organizers are maintaining the festival's signature small scale, with capacity capped at 1,000 attendees per day. This approach aims to preserve the intimate and immersive nature of the event. Enhancements to logistics, wellness services, and sound design have been implemented to ensure a smooth and impactful experience for both artists and attendees.

“We’re not scaling up. We’re scaling deeper,” said a representative from Krank’s logistics team. “Each element has been considered to protect the core vibe of the festival.”

In response to growing international interest, including from regions across Asia, Europe, and the Middle East, organizers have expanded onsite resources to meet increased demand.

Tickets for Phase 1 are currently available, with General Admission priced at ₹2,999 and VIP tickets at ₹5,999. Prices are set to increase on July 25. Tickets can be purchased through the official Krank page on SortMyScene.com. For queries, WhatsApp support is available at +91 93537 56313.
