Ladie Announces New Single ‘Come See What’s Hannin’

An anthem for your summer soundtrack!

Y'all know we can have a summer anthem that's not ratchet but still has that bounce, right? Let's bring the vibes! Independent Artist Ladie has called us out and said, "Come See What's Hannin".

Although she originally hails from Washington, D.C., artist Ladie has chosen to embrace her Southern experience, having spent a portion of her upbringing in Atlanta as she unveils her latest single "Come see What's Hannin". "Come See What's Hannin" is set to drop on July 18, 2025 and will be available for purchase exclusively on qasladie.com

The track is booming, revealing an exciting new layer of Ladie's range as it has a different sound from previous works freely shifting between playful melodics and lyrical ease.

This uptempo track, produced by ProdbbyDemetrius and mixed by Julian "Juice" Santos, clearly illustrates a lively rhythm that encourages enjoyment and fun while featuring lyrics that do not demean the art or the culture. "Come see What's Hannin " is bound to be a moment, that introduces Ladie's music to a broader audience, attracting hip-hop and rap enthusiasts from coast to coast.

'Come See What's Hannin' is available now exclusively at www.qasladie.com
