

Leaderly AI Launches Global Platform for Continuous Leader Development, Combining AI and Microlearning

Veteran-Founded AI Company Led by Combat Veterans and Former Salesforce.com Executive

New York City, New York Jul 17, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Leaderly AI, a cutting-edge company founded by military and AI veterans, on Thursday announced the launch of its SaaS platform designed to transform leader development through the power of artificial intelligence and microlearning.

Embracing the successful SaaS model popularized by Salesforce.com, Leaderly AI is set to redefine how organizations approach continuous learning and engagement for employees at all levels.

The Leaderly platform harnesses AI technology to deliver customized solutions for organizations and personalized learning experiences, ensuring that users can efficiently access the resources they need to grow and thrive in their leadership roles. By integrating AI microlearning and personalized behavioral science, Leaderly AI provides incremental, impactful learning that keeps users engaged and encourages ongoing development.

“We are excited to introduce Leaderly AI to the market,” said Drew Bartkiewicz, CEO of Leaderly AI, a combat veteran and former executive at Salesforce.com. “Our mission is to empower all employees with the daily tools they need to succeed in a fast-paced environment. By leveraging AI, mobile technology, and microlearning, we’ve created a solution that is not only efficient but also highly effective in fostering continuous personal growth and team engagement. Leaderly AI turns continuous learning into addictive and achievable experiences that truly change behaviors and create more people wanting to lead.”

Leaderly is the first mobile-only, AI platform in the world to develop its own LLM for continuous leader development and engagement.

Early adopters of the Leaderly AI platform have already begun to see transformative results. Here’s what some of our customers are saying:

“Leaderly AI has revolutionized our training programs. The integration of AI and microlearning means that our employees are developing skills and positive habits more rapidly than ever before.” – Nick Demiro, President of Mayco International

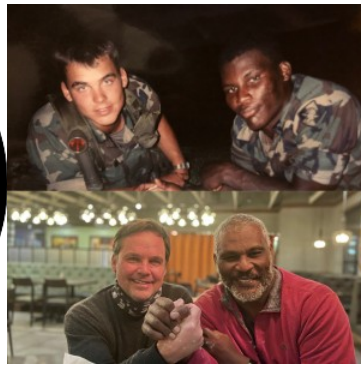

“The personalized learning paths are a game-changer. People can now focus on the areas they need to improve without wading through irrelevant content. Our collective leadership skills have improved significantly, and an affordability that is unmatched.” – Joe Ross, President of Higher Echelon.

“Leaderly AI makes it easy to deliver continuous training and self-development as downtime learning. The mobile, microlearning approach fits perfectly into people’s busy work life, and we’ve seen a noticeable improvement in deploying our own leader development programming on top of the customizable Leaderly platform.” – Dave Taylor, CEO of LDR Leadership.

As organizations increasingly recognize the need for effective leader development for all employees, Leaderly AI stands out as the leading platform that merges advanced technology with existing mobile trends and behaviors. With the backing of experienced leader development and SaaS professionals, Leaderly AI is poised to become an essential technology for traditional leader development providers and for businesses aiming to cultivate leading and learning cultures.
