

Mahmood Shahsavari – Iranian Guitarist, Composer, and Music Educator

Composer, and Instructor

Mahmood Shahsavari is an Iranian guitarist, composer, and music educator. Born in 2002 in Aligudarz, Lorestan province, he began his musical journey at a young age, choosing the guitar as his main instrument. Over the years, his deep passion for flamenco music has shaped him into one of the rising figures of this genre in Iran.

Musical Career

In addition to being a performer, Mahmood has been actively teaching guitar both online and in person for several years, mentoring numerous students with a focus on flamenco technique and expression.

He has performed in several notable events, including

- Flamenco Guitar Concert at Roudaki Hall, Tehran, alongside master Pezhman Noor
- Multiple concerts at Fardows Cultural Center, Tehran
- A self-directed flamenco concert at Kamal Hall in Aligudarz

Mahmood has also released two original compositions:

- Dream of Flying
- Sense of Liberation

These works reflect his unique blend of personal expression and traditional flamenco aesthetics.

Though he has not attended international programs yet, Mahmood has participated in numerous masterclasses by renowned guitarist Pezhman Noor, constantly refining his skills and musical insight.

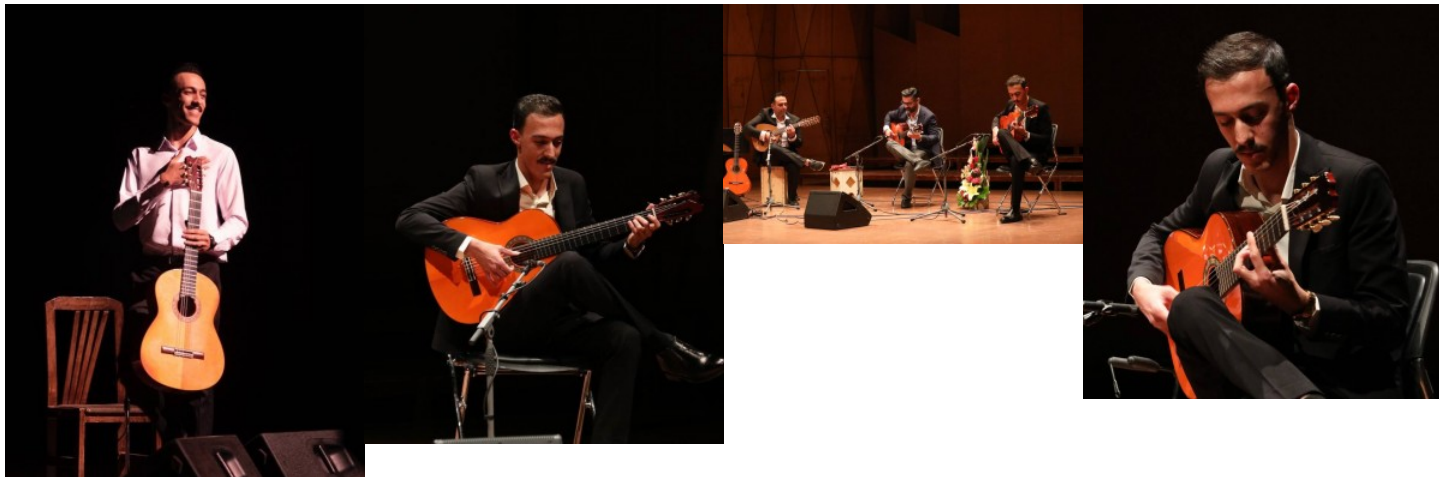

Achievements

In 2021, Mahmood Shahsavari was awarded first place in the Lorestan Province Guitar Competition, a significant milestone in his artistic path.
