Mars Translation, with tailored solutions for businesses, organizations, and individuals required to localize their content for global audiences, opens wide on customization as much as globalization is no longer an option in this fast-paced digital age; globalization becomes a reality for every one of us. Its strength emanates from an extensive pool of accredited native linguists, their excellent systems integration of new technologies, and unrivaled industry knowledge.

Who We Are

Mars Translation was founded with the mission to overcome language barriers. Today, it has grown into a fully-fledged service provider that has clients in over 100 countries. All these, supported by a team of thousands of dedicated professional native translators and localization experts who can deliver all necessary language and cultural inputs into and for every assignment.

Its global clients include eCommerce giants, multinational companies, medical and legal institutions, software companies, gaming companies, and many more. Our solutions provide unparalleled precision with 24/7 customer support, cost efficiency, and specialist domain knowledge on a scalable basis.

Our Language Services

Mars Translation delivers a varied array of professional translation and localization services to assist in the global expansion and cross-cultural communication of companies. Their primary services are as follows:

1. Document Translation Services

Mars Translation is an international document translation service that offers officially certified translation for documents such as legal contracts, user manuals, financial statements, and academic papers into more than 230 language pairs. Each document is given to an expert in that field who guarantees the technical accuracy and cultural relevance of the content.

2. Website Translation & Localization

The website is usually the first global interface with potential customers. We provide end-to-end website translation and localization so that your content communicates linguistically and culturally with your target audience. We take care of everything: text, graphics, SEO tags, and UX/UI localization.

3. Software & App Localization

Mars Translation assists tech companies with the international launch of their software or mobile apps, providing complete UI/UX localization, string file translations, and cultural adaptation. The team works with developers to facilitate the localization process while maintaining the product's integrity.

4. Game Localization

Matching the demands of the fastly emerging global gaming industry, Mars Translation offers specialized game localization services, such as storyline adaptation, voice-over translation, subtitling, and in-game text localization, to ensure players are provided with an immersive experience worldwide.

5. E-commerce Translation

From product descriptions and reviews to customer support content, we help e-commerce platforms provide a local experience that engages consumers and converts international markets.

6. Multimedia Translation (Subtitling, Voice-Over & Dubbing)

Well-versed in entire list of multimedia localization, we can provide complete solutions for everything from subtitling to voice-overs, dubbing across videos, films, training material, and e-learning modules-on ease of access and engagement globally in your content.

7. Interpretation Services

For real-time conversations, meetings, and events, Mars Translation provides professional interpretation services—including simultaneous, consecutive, and over-the-phone interpretation—available in multiple languages.

8. Industry-Specific Translation

We cater to the specialized needs of various industries such as:

- Medical & Healthcare Translation (clinical reports, patient records, medical device manuals)
- Legal Translation (contracts, court documents, patents)
- Financial Translation (banking statements, insurance, auditing documents)
- Marketing & Advertising Translation (campaigns, brochures, branding)
- Technical Translation (engineering manuals, data sheets, product documentation)
