

Meet Benji: The 4-Year-Old Golf Prodigy Captivating New England with His Swing—and His Spirit

Boston, Massachusetts Jul 10, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - In the heart of New England, a 4-year-old boy named Benji is turning heads and winning hearts on the golf course. With a perfect swing, a vibrant personality, and amazing scores that are documented on popular golf simulators and on local courses, Benji is quickly becoming a local legend in the New England area. He is already holding his own with adult golfers and beating kids much older than he is.

Benji's passion for golf was sparked by his father, Freddie, a talented golfer himself. Freddie plays a pivotal role in Benji's journey — guiding him with love, patience, and the perfect balance of fun and focus. A village of love supports Benji's kind, sensitive, and outgoing nature. His spirited aunt Tina, who is Freddie's sister, is a beacon of positive energy who inspires him to chase his dreams. And at the core of Benji's success is his mom, Cristina — the steady rock of the family. Her nurturing spirit, emphasis on healthy habits, and commitment to raising a well-rounded child are evident in everything Benji does. His fun and positive personality is an inspiration to those around him and he's making quite a name for himself at such a young age.

Beyond the golf course, Benji is bilingual, full of energy, and loves baseball. He makes friends easily, and his infectious smile lights up any room — or golf course — he walks into.
