

Nextvisit AI Helps Addiction Providers Deliver Better Care, Not Just Paperwork

New MAT Note cuts documentation time while improving treatment decisions

Amityville, New York Jul 7, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - For addiction treatment providers, documentation stands between patients and medication. Today, Nextvisit AI unveiled a specialized MAT Note that puts all critical patient information in one place, helping providers make better treatment decisions faster.

"This is about more than saving time. It's about seeing the complete patient story," says Ryan Yannelli, Co-founder & CTO of Nextvisit AI. "When providers can quickly spot patterns across medication compliance, toxicology results, and counseling progress, they make more informed decisions that directly impact recovery outcomes."

Nextvisit user surveys reveal the solution delivers three clear benefits:

- Providers spend 30-40% less time on documentation
- Administrative staff save 40% on billing and coordination tasks
- Structured format ensures all regulatory requirements can be reviewed by providers

For most providers, the MAT Note works out of the box without any special setup, but Nextvisit AI would love to provide a demo.

About Nextvisit AI: Founded by psychiatrist Dr. Faisal Rafiq and software engineer Ryan Yannelli, Nextvisit AI turns doctor-patient conversations into clinical notes, helping healthcare providers spend less time on paperwork and more time with patients.
