Las Vegas, Nevada Jul 13, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Las Vegas is a city built on reinvention, and few embody that spirit more than Richard Zamilpa. A born-and-raised Las Vegas entrepreneur, Zamilpa, 34, has seamlessly transitioned from the high-energy world of nightlife to real estate, fintech, and mobile app development—all while staying deeply connected to his roots in the hospitality industry. But beyond business, Zamilpa is known for something just as valuable: his ability to make people laugh and light up any room he enters.

From Nightclubs to Networking

Zamilpa's entrepreneurial journey began in the heart of the Strip, where he spent years working in some of Las Vegas' most prestigious nightclubs, including Omnia and Hakkasan. During his time in the nightlife scene, he worked alongside some of the biggest DJs in the world, including Zedd and Tiësto, managing VIP experiences and cultivating connections with top-tier talent and business executives.

His hospitality background gave him a keen understanding of customer service, branding, and the power of relationships—skills that would later prove invaluable in his next ventures. But perhaps the biggest thing he took from his nightclub days? His ability to make people feel good and have a great time, no matter where he is.

The Meme King of the Group

Zamilpa isn't just an entrepreneur—he's the guy who keeps everyone laughing. Whether it's cracking jokes, sharing hilarious memes, or roasting his friends in the most entertaining way possible, he has a talent for making people smile. His social media is filled with witty, relatable content that keeps his followers engaged, proving that business doesn't always have to be serious. His infectious personality ensures that any room he walks into is instantly more fun, and his humor has made him a magnet for good energy and good people.

Diving Into Real Estate

After years in the nightclub industry, Zamilpa set his sights on real estate investing, leveraging his network and industry knowledge to acquire prime properties in Las Vegas. He recognized the city's growing demand for investment properties and quickly built a portfolio that positioned him for long-term financial success. His ability to spot opportunities and maximize property value made him a formidable player in the Las Vegas real estate market.

Building the Future in Fintech and Mobile Apps

Not one to stay in a single lane, Zamilpa expanded his expertise into the fintech and credit card processing industry, helping businesses streamline their payment systems. He also delved into custom mobile app development, assisting companies in building tailored digital solutions to enhance their customer experience. His ability to adapt to emerging markets has allowed him to stay ahead of trends and continue evolving as an entrepreneur.

A Passion for Food and Giving Back

Beyond his business ventures, Zamilpa is a self-proclaimed foodie with a deep appreciation for Las Vegas' diverse culinary scene. He enjoys discovering new restaurants and supporting small, locally owned eateries. This year, he is taking his passion a step further by giving back to the Las Vegas community, specifically by helping small restaurants navigate challenges and improve their operations.

His goal is to provide financial support, mentorship, and technology solutions to help local businesses thrive.

The Vision Ahead

Zamilpa's journey is a testament to the power of adaptability and seizing opportunities in an ever-changing city. From working in the nightlife industry to becoming a real estate investor, fintech innovator, and tech entrepreneur, he continues to make an impact in multiple industries. And through it all, he remains the same funny, charismatic, and down-to-earth guy who knows how to make people laugh and enjoy life.

As he looks to the future, Zamilpa remains focused on innovation, community support, and business growth, proving that in Las Vegas, reinvention isn't just an option—it's a way of life. And no matter where his career takes him next, one thing is for sure: he'll keep making people laugh along the way
