Andy Rubin: Your Trusted Realtor with Over 25 Years of Experience at RE/MAX Realty Centre

New York City, New York Aug 14, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Andy Rubin, a highly respected independent real estate professional based in Olney, Maryland, is redefining what it means to serve both clients and community. A solo agent with RE/MAX Realty Center, Andy brings decades of experience, unmatched local knowledge, and a uniquely personal approach to his work.

Andy's roots in real estate run deep. "I grew up in a real estate household—it was always in the air," he says. He got his start in new home sales with Ryan Homes, becoming the company's youngest hire at the time. Over the next 20 years, he worked with a range of builders, honing his skills in sales strategy, marketing, and customer relationships.

Despite his success, Andy longed for greater creative freedom. "It felt like I had a full set of golf clubs but was only allowed to use three," he explains. In 2019, he made a deliberate, financially strategic shift into general brokerage, where he could finally bring his full range of skills to the table.

Since that leap, Rubin has built a thriving solo practice based on strategic branding, top-tier marketing, and fierce client advocacy. "Marketing matters—but so does integrity," Andy says. "I'm the guy who goes to bat for clients when deals get tough."

One of Andy's most defining contributions, however, goes beyond business. In 2019, he founded Bonnaroobin, an annual music and charity event that has become a beloved Olney tradition. Drawing hundreds of residents each year, the event raises funds for the Children's Miracle Network—a cause that hits close to home. His niece's life was saved by the Children's Hospital, making the event both a professional touchpoint and a personal mission. This summer, Bonnaroobin X raised over $6,000 for sick children, while at the same time providing a stage for local musicians, sponsorship opportunities for local businesses, and the "best day of the summer" for local residents!

"It's more than branding—it's legacy," Andy says. "Bonnaroobin brings people together, supports kids in need, and gives back to the community that supports me."

While Andy isn't a member of formal networking groups like the Chamber of Commerce, his community presence is anything but quiet. His grassroots approach—marked by personal outreach, consistent marketing, and authentic relationships—has earned him a reputation built not just on visibility, but results.

"In a market like Olney, where competition is fierce, some agents win by being everywhere," he adds. "I focus on being excellent—delivering value, not just volume."

Outside the office, Andy is known for his love of sports and sense of humor. He is a lifelong Miami Dolphins fan (yes, even through the hard years). A Baltimore Orioles season ticket holder and a dedicated fantasy football player for nearly 30 years, currently in a dynasty league with playful last-place punishments, like posing with a donkey trophy.

But above all, Andy remains deeply committed to leaving a positive mark. "This business isn't just about selling homes," he says. "It's about building something meaningful—relationships, reputation, and a community I'm proud to be part of."
