Ethereum leads the cloud mining market, and DL Mining becomes the preferred platform for multi-currency holders.

Geneve, Switzerland Aug 24, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - With Ethereum (ETH) breaking through $4,500, the cryptocurrency market is experiencing a new wave of bullish momentum. Prominent investors like Arthur Hayes and Tom Lee are increasing their ETH holdings, institutional capital continues to flow in, and market sentiment remains overwhelmingly positive. Against this backdrop, Chainlink (LINK), Polkadot (DOT), and Pump.fun (PUMP) are emerging as three high-potential cryptocurrencies poised for significant gains. Meanwhile, DL Mining, with its efficient cloud mining model, has become the best way for investors to capitalize on this trend.

Ethereum Leads the Rally, Three Altcoins Ready to Break Out1. Chainlink (LINK): The Oracle Leader Targets $30

- Currently trading near its 2025 peak of $27.21, just 15% away from the $30.94 target.
- Strong bullish signals from RSI and MACD, with support at $20.
- As a critical DeFi infrastructure, Chainlink's demand within the Ethereum ecosystem continues to grow.

2. Polkadot (DOT): The Interoperability King Aims for $5.36

- Current price: $4.16, with key resistance at $5.36 (May 2025 high).
- Technical indicators show DOT in an upward channel, with accelerating institutional inflows.
- Polkadot 2.0 upgrades and cross-chain expansion drive long-term value.

3. Pump.fun (PUMP): The Meme Coin with Explosive Short-Term Potential

- Up 19% in 24 hours, targeting $0.005.
- 4-hour chart shows an uptrend, with support at $0.0032.
- The meme coin frenzy persists, offering strong short-term trading opportunities.

DL Mining: The Best Investment Tool Amid Ethereum's Boom
