For more than 15 years, Florida Game Show has transformed ordinary gatherings into high-energy game show productions. With wireless buzzers, music-driven pacing, and charismatic hosts, their events feel less like a meeting and more like prime-time entertainment. From corporate retreats in Orlando to employee appreciation nights in Tampa, every show is designed to get people buzzing.

“Our mission has always been simple: bring people together through fun,” said Jim Casey, Founder of Florida Game Show. “Team building doesn’t have to feel forced. When colleagues are laughing, competing, and cheering each other on, real connections happen. That’s what makes our game shows special.”

Having produced more than 3,000 live shows for 100,000+ players, the company has worked with organizations like Siemens, Chick-fil-A, and the American Cancer Society. Clients consistently highlight how the format sparks genuine engagement and leaves employees talking about the event for weeks.
