

Radiation Puppy Expands Their Musical Horizons with "Shy"

Radiation Puppy continue their creative momentum with "Shy": a captivating follow-up that showcases the band's versatility and emotional depth in the alternative rock landscape.

Baltimore, Maryland Aug 20, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Building on the momentum of "Tyrant," Radiation Puppy continues to showcase their versatility with their upcoming single "Shy," a compelling alternative rock ballad that explores themes of missed opportunities and regret. Recorded at Pacific Beat Studios by Grammy Award-winning engineer Alan Sanderson and mixed by their longtime collaborator J. Robbins (Jawbox, Burning Airlines), the track represents another evolution in the band's sound—blending the atmospheric intensity of Evanescence with the melodic sensibilities of Jimmy Eat World.

"Shy" demonstrates the band's ability to craft emotionally resonant music that builds from intimate moments, a perfect addition to an indie rock, alternative, or Midwest emo playlist. The single is accompanied by a fully animated music video and short film created by UK-based animator Eren Arnold, released on August 19 and premiering on their YouTube channel. This visual component adds another dimension to Radiation Puppy's artistic expression, complementing their summer festival tour schedule and further establishing their presence in the alternative rock revival movement.

The single "Tyrant" launched on streaming platforms May 20, 2025, followed by its provocative official music video on June 17, 2025. As the third powerhouse release from Radiation Puppy this year—following "Things You Should Know" and "Please Don't Make Me Leave the House Again" in January and March, respectively—"Tyrant" was featured on an Allegedly Records compilation this past June, and fans can experience this creative momentum live throughout summer 2025, which included a main stage appearance at Sowebo Fest this past May.

"Tyrant" and "Shy" prove that Radiation Puppy's two-decade journey has only sharpened their edge and deepened their artistic vision. More than just another single, it's a declaration of intent—a bold statement that positions the band at the forefront of the contemporary alternative rock revival while setting the stage for what promises to be their most ambitious creative period yet.

Check out more of Radiation Puppy's music and listen to "Shy" on Spotify. Stay updated on their journey through Instagram, TikTok, and YouTube, where you'll find additional content and music videos.

Media Contact

Creator Uplift

@creatoruplift.com

Source : Radiation Puppy

See on IssueWire