

The New Cretaceous - A Graphic Novel on Transformation, Faith, and Survival Enters Its Final Days on Indiegogo

But time is running out. To keep this project alive, the campaign must reach its halfway point before the clock runs out.

Elk Grove Village, Illinois Aug 24, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - With just days left to rally support, creator Carl Tiessen is making a final call to backers for The New Cretaceous, a bold new graphic novel set in a Jurassic-inspired sci-fi world. This isn't about dinosaurs, it's about a character who, after a life-changing accident, undergoes a radical transformation in both body and soul.

At its core, The New Cretaceous is a story about resilience. The protagonist's physical transformation forces her to question identity, purpose, and faith. In the midst of turmoil, she discovers God in the most unexpected and non-religious way - a reminder that transformation is as much spiritual as it is physical.

This project was born from my deepest conviction that change, no matter how painful, can lead to growth and meaning. The story isn't about going back to dinosaurs, it's about the human soul confronting transformation and finding God's presence in the unlikely of places.

Why Back Now?

- Final Week: Without urgent support, this campaign risks ending before the story can be brought to life.
- Exclusive Rewards: Backers who pledge during this final stretch will receive early access and digital editions before public release.
- A Story That Matters: This is more than entertainment, it's a narrative about change, hope, and spiritual discovery.

The campaign is live on Indiegogo, but every hour counts. Supporters are urged to step in now to ensure The New Cretaceous not only survives but thrives.
