

Ukrainian Author Launches "Marginalic Nova" Magazine to Promote Culture Over Conflict

Opening of a unique philosophical journal

Dnipropetrovsk, Dnipropetrovska Aug 18, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Ukrainian writer and philosopher Ilya Ganpantura has announced the launch of Marginalic Nova, an online magazine dedicated to authors, poets, philosophers, and photographers. The platform seeks to provide a space where Ukrainian and Russian voices can meet not in conflict, but in dialogue and shared cultural creativity.

"Through my projects, songs, books, novellas, and online communities, I have always sought to bring Ukrainians and Russians together," says Ganpantura. "Unity, creativity, and mutual understanding — these must be what bind our peoples."

Ganpantura, a writer of both Russian and Ukrainian heritage, has previously published in Western outlets such as VoegelinView and CultursMag. With Marginalic Nova, his mission is to introduce a modern, Western-style journal to Russian-language readers while focusing on philosophical and cultural themes.

The magazine explores the anthropology of human life and philosophy, offering essays, artistic photography, and creative works. Contributors and readers include both Ukrainians and Russians, united by a search for culture and reflection beyond political conflict.
