

Adela Osmani: The “Painter Without Brushes” Expands Her Global Footprint From New York to Dubai

New York City, New York Sep 9, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Abstract painter Adela Osmani, internationally celebrated for her singular style and profound emotional depth, is poised for global expansion as collectors and institutions from New York to Dubai embrace her visionary work.

Known as the “painter without brushes,” Osmani forgoes traditional tools, instead using her hands to manipulate oil- and water-based pigments. Through touch, energy, and spirituality, she creates paintings that channel subconscious emotions and meditative symbolism, producing an expressive aesthetic that engages both mind and soul.

International Acclaim

By just the age of 25, Adela Osmani’s career had already taken her to some of the art world’s most prestigious stages:

- Exhibiting at Carrousel du Louvre in Paris
- Solo shows in Paris, Milan, and Dubai
- Participation in the Cannes Art Biennale during the Film Festival
- Representation in the Italian Parliament
- Statement performance art at Miss Universe, where she wore a hand-painted cape raising awareness about sexual abuse of minors

Her growing recognition underscores her position as one of the most exciting new voices in contemporary abstract art.

Art with Purpose

Beyond aesthetics, Osmani’s work reflects a commitment to philanthropy and impact. A portion of all her exhibition proceeds supports children’s hospitals, and she actively contributes to charity exhibitions worldwide. Her creative mission is not only to transform canvases but also to channel resources toward causes that directly benefit children in need.

Global Expansion

With collectors and clients now engaging her from New York, Paris, Milan, Dubai, and beyond, Adela Osmani is solidifying her presence as a truly international artist. Her blend of spirituality, psychology, and human awareness has struck a chord with audiences worldwide, positioning her as a transformative force in both the art world and philanthropy.

“For me, art is energy—an extension of emotion, awareness, and healing,” says Adela Osmani. “Every piece carries the intention to connect people beyond the canvas, toward something higher and more human.”
