With only eight seats at its counter, the restaurant has quietly become a whispered secret among discerning diners searching for the Best Omakase Singapore has to offer—an experience that blends authenticity with bold innovation.

In just one year, Sushi Masa has established itself as a sanctuary where boundaries between chef and guest dissolve. “Our first year has been about igniting passion,” says Chef Masa. “Nothing satisfies me more than watching guests close their eyes in pleasure as they taste an ingredient’s true essence. Each morning, I personally select the finest seasonal treasures from Toyosu Market, ensuring every evening’s experience awakens all senses.”

Unlike conventional omakase spots, Sushi Masa is deliberately open only for dinner service. This allows afternoons to be dedicated to meticulous preparation, ensuring each evening's menu feels both spontaneous and unforgettable. From the first delicate bite of sashimi to the final warm dish, every course is crafted as an intimate performance that lingers in memory.

Looking ahead, Sushi Masa remains committed to pushing the boundaries of omakase in Singapore. "We'll continue exploring the limits of creativity and tradition," Chef Masa shares. "Our goal is to create dining experiences that guests will carry with them long after the evening has ended."

Sushi Masa's reputation has also been recognised beyond its counter. Recently, it was featured on Food Stories' Best Omakase Singapore list, highlighted as one of the top destinations not to be missed.
