

Brussels agency MLY drives innovation in motion design and 3D storytelling

Brussels-based agency combines design excellence with real-time 3D innovation

Brussel, Belgium Dec 29, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - MLY (Media Loves You), a creative agency headquartered in Brussels, continues to strengthen its reputation as a leading partner in motion design, 3D animation, and immersive storytelling.

Over the past 15 years, MLY has produced a wide range of projects for cinema, television, and advertising. Its work includes TV openers, film sequences, and corporate communication pieces for brands such as Toyota, Bosch, Volkswagen, Ferrero, Thalys, RTBF, and RTL Belgium.

By combining high-end design with cutting-edge technology, MLY is now taking its services further into the field of interactive 3D experiences. These projects enable brands and institutions to engage audiences with memorable and dynamic formats tailored to digital platforms, live events, and broadcast media.

“Storytelling is evolving. Today it’s not just about what people see, but how they interact with it. At MLY, we create visuals that audiences can experience, not just watch,” says Stéphane Sowa, CEO and Creative Director of MLY.

With a strong international perspective and a commitment to creative excellence, MLY aims to collaborate with agencies, media, and institutions across Europe that are ready to explore the next level of visual communication.
