

Build AI Apps Without Coding: Explore LexTrack AI's AI App Store

Thousands of affordable AI mini apps help entrepreneurs and businesses save time and scale.

San Francisco, California Sep 8, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - For many young professionals, creators, and small-to-medium businesses (SMEs), adopting artificial intelligence has felt overwhelming - too costly, too technical, and out of reach. LexTrack AI, a San Francisco-based startup, is breaking down those barriers with its expanding AI Mini App Store, a unique marketplace of no-code AI tools designed to make daily life and business operations simpler, faster, and more productive.

Branded as the “Home of AI Agents,” LexTrack AI offers a complete ecosystem: an AI app generator for building without coding, a marketplace to access and customize thousands of ready-to-use AI mini apps, and a monetization layer that allows creators to turn ideas into income. This all-in-one approach enables users to build AI apps without coding, scale them quickly, and monetize their creations, unlocking the power of affordable AI solutions for everyone.

Some of the most impactful tools already available include:

- Automation App – Handles repetitive tasks like scheduling, emails, and data entry, saving time and improving efficiency for entrepreneurs and SMEs.
- Burner Call App – Generates temporary, secure phone numbers, helping freelancers and small businesses protect privacy while staying connected.
- Medicine Scanner – Uses AI-powered recognition to identify medications instantly, supporting safe and informed decisions for individuals and health-focused businesses.

By blending AI innovation with accessibility, LexTrack AI is building a community-driven AI marketplace that benefits both creators and businesses. For Gen Z students, freelancers, and entrepreneurs, it’s an opportunity to test ideas, showcase talent, and even earn income. For small businesses, it’s a cost-effective way to adopt AI and automate workflows without large IT teams.

The future of artificial intelligence is here, and it’s designed for everyone. Explore the AI Mini App Store and unlock thousands of AI productivity apps today.
