

Charisma Check Wins Startup of the Year at Identity Week America 2025

Washington, D.C, District of Columbia Sep 15, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Charisma Check, a leading innovator in ID-verified criminal background checks, has been awarded Startup of the Year at Identity Week America 2025, a premier conference celebrating excellence in identity verification, trust, and security.

The award was judged by a panel of senior leaders from top global tech companies including PayPal, Amazon, and eBay, underscoring the strength and credibility of the recognition.

This milestone reflects Charisma Check's commitment to transforming the way individuals and organizations verify identity and trustworthiness. Through its background check platform, the company ensures reports are anchored to a verified, real-world identity which helps reduce fraud, protect communities, and build safer digital and physical spaces.

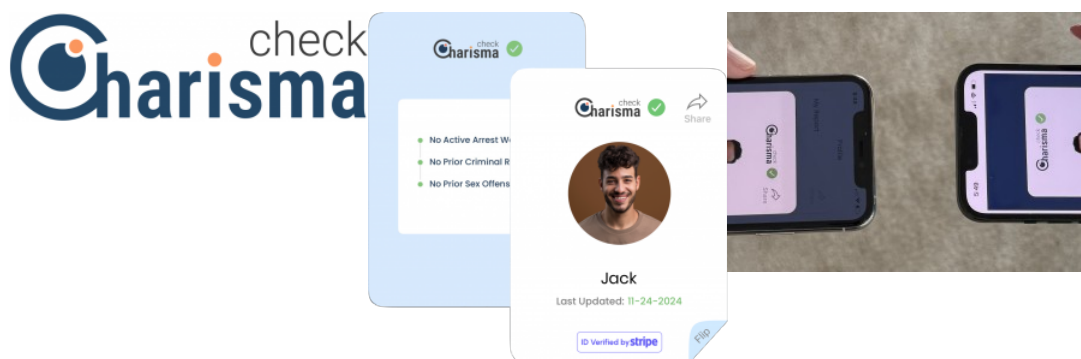

"Being recognized as Startup of the Year is an incredible honor and a testament to the work our team is doing to make trust verifiable," said Obai, CEO & Co-Founder of Charisma Check. "As identity fraud and security concerns grow, our mission is more urgent than ever."

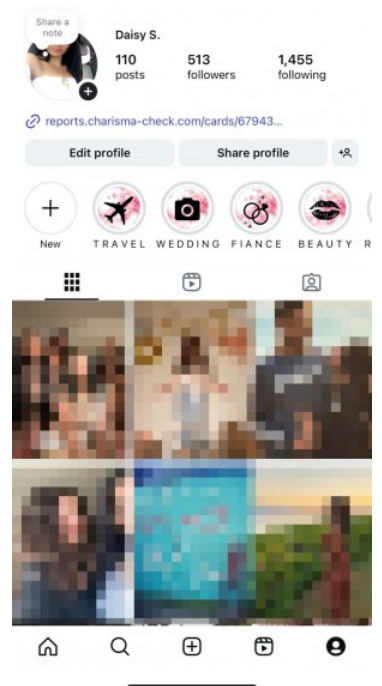

With rising demand for secure and private screening, Charisma Check is at the forefront of creating a new standard in background verification where identity and accountability go hand in hand.
