

Elliot Bright, PA-C, Elevates Orthopaedic Surgery Support & Patient Care in the Greater Los Angeles Area

Chief Physician Assistant Offers Advanced Treatment, Mentorship, and a Patient-Focused Approach

Los Angeles, California Sep 29, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Elliot Bright, PA-C, Chief Physician Assistant at Samimi Orthopaedic Group, is expanding access to exceptional orthopaedic care across in Los Angeles, with practice locations including Brentwood, Covina, & Encino. With specialized training and hands-on experience in orthopaedic surgery and sports medicine, Elliot is dedicated to assessing, treating, and helping patients recover from musculoskeletal injuries, arthritis, fractures, and joint disorders.

Elliot Bright began his academic journey with a Bachelor's degree in Biology from Stony Brook University in New York, followed by a Physician Assistant graduate degree from Mercy College in the Bronx. During his training, he gained experience across various medical specialties and developed a strong foundation in orthopaedic surgery. This training was supplemented with leadership roles in student organizations and community service, including global medical missions and mentoring aspiring PAs.

At Samimi Orthopaedic Group, Elliot works alongside chief orthopaedic surgeon Dr. Babak Samimi and associate surgeons to provide both operative and non-operative treatments. His scope of practice includes diagnosing and managing joint injuries like ACL tears, meniscus tears, and rotator cuff and labrum pathology, as well as performing injections—cortisone, PRP, and viscosupplementation—and assisting in surgeries such as arthroplasty and arthroscopy. He places strong emphasis on motion preservation, patient comfort, and customized recovery plans.

Elliot is also invested in professional development and mentorship. He is a member of major professional organizations including the American Academy of Physician Assistants (AAPA), the California Academy of Physician Assistants (CAPA), and the Physician Assistants of Orthopedic Surgery (PAOS). Outside of his core surgical support, he has worked in urgent care settings, participated in global health work, and supported future healthcare providers through student mentorship and education.

Outside the clinic, Elliot Bright balances his high-intensity medical work with passions for motorsport, weightlifting, music, and martial arts. Known for a warm, cheerful bedside manner, he strives to make orthopaedic care accessible, engaging, and effective. Patients seeking orthopaedic evaluation, treatment, or rehabilitation in the Greater Los Angeles area are invited to connect with Elliot at Samimi Orthopaedic Group to benefit from his expertise and compassionate care.
