

ExposeJustice.com Launches to Expose Systemic Judicial Misconduct and Constitutional Violations in U.S. Courts

Platform publishes public court filings and official misconduct complaints alleging 90+ due process violations, conflicts of interest, and judicial silence — urging Congress and the Supreme Court to intervene.

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Oct 7, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - ExposeJustice.com, a public transparency platform, has launched to reveal what it describes as a systemic pattern of due process violations, judicial misconduct, and prosecutorial abuse within the U.S. justice system. Drawing from official court filings, transcripts, and procedural records, the site documents over 90 violations of constitutional protections, raising urgent questions about the integrity and accountability of federal and state courts.

The platform's findings, compiled from public dockets and filings across multiple jurisdictions, include evidence of delayed rulings, ignored motions, conflicts of interest, and disregard of controlling law — all of which undermine the guarantees of the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments.

A formal judicial misconduct complaint has been filed under 28 U.S.C. §§ 351–364, citing prolonged delays, unanswered motions, procedural irregularities, and potential conflicts involving court personnel and prosecutors.

Key Allegations and Findings

90+ Constitutional Violations: Based on filings, transcripts, and docket records from trial and appellate courts.

Ignored Motions and Judicial Silence: Cases where courts failed to rule on time-sensitive filings or judicial notice requests.

Conflict of Interest: Evidence of overlapping personal and professional relationships between prosecutors and court staff.

Asset Freezes Beyond Legal Authority: Orders extended beyond statutory limits without jurisdictional findings.

Unreasoned Denials: Summary rulings issued without explanation, preventing meaningful appellate review.

A Call for Oversight and Accountability

ExposeJustice.com calls on Congress, the U.S. Supreme Court, and federal oversight agencies — including the Judicial Conduct & Disability Committee and Department of Justice Office of Inspector General — to investigate the documented misconduct, review affected cases, and implement immediate corrective measures.

“The pattern is unmistakable — when courts ignore the law, deny rulings, or protect insiders, justice itself collapses,” said Joseph Cammarata, founder of ExposeJustice.com. “We’ve compiled undeniable public evidence. Now it’s time for oversight, accountability, and reform.”

Why This Matters

The Constitution guarantees every citizen due process, impartial judges, and fair proceedings. When courts violate these principles — whether through delay, silence, or bias — the rule of law is endangered. ExposeJustice.com serves as a public repository to empower journalists, legislators, and watchdog organizations to examine the evidence and demand reform.

About ExposeJustice.com

ExposeJustice.com is an independent transparency project documenting constitutional violations and judicial misconduct through public records. Founded by Joseph Cammarata, the initiative aggregates evidence from multiple ongoing cases to reveal systemic failures in judicial accountability and oversight.
