The creation of Epicsellr

Originally created as an online dance academy, at a time when online dance schooling was still rare. Ayumi launched an idea to create digital classes for Japanese students who longed to train like professionals in America. Between home schooling and managing late night recording sessions, she was able to bring together top dancers from the U.S. to build a thriving community while delivering world-class dance education straight from her home.

The hardships of that lead to Epicsellr

Running and managing her business wasn't easy. Using a scattered and overwhelming method that required multiple platforms "Everything was scattered," she recalls. "That's when I realized that starting an online business would be easier if all the tools were in one platform."

That insight led to Epicsellr, an all-in-one platform designed so anyone can start an online business and build an online store quickly—no tech headaches, no plugins, no limits.

Why Epicsellr is Different

- No Sales Fees: Shopify, Etsy, Amazon, and TikTok take a percentage of every sale. Epicsellr lets users keep 100% of their earnings—only a simple monthly fee applies.
- All-in-One Platform: Other platforms require multiple tools—Shopify for products, Zoom for classes, Patreon for memberships, Instagram for promotion. Epicsellr combines everything in one place: online courses, digital products, dropshipping, bookings, subscriptions, video-on-demand, and community features.
- Unlimited Sales Options: Unlike other platforms that limit product types, Epicsellr supports:
 - Online courses
 - Digital products
 - Dropshipping items
 - Bookings and appointments
 - Rentals
 - Subscriptions and memberships
 - Video-on-demand
