Phoenix, Arizona Sep 1, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Salman Z. Khan, CEO of The Gideon Group, has published a LinkedIn article examining how artificial intelligence (AI) adoption is transforming organizational structure.

In the article, titled “AI Will Not Replace You – But Will Eliminate the Middle,” Khan explains that AI is less likely to replace entry-level or frontline workers and more likely to erode mid-level functions such as analysts, coordinators, and operations managers.

“This isn’t about layoffs – it’s about structural obsolescence,” Khan noted in the article. “AI is absorbing process-driven roles at unprecedented speed.”
