

Igor Lisul Releases New EP “Carried By the Wind” – A Soulful Journey Through Electric Guitar Solos

Vojvodina, Serbia Sep 10, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Serbian guitarist Igor Lisul announces the release of his latest EP, Carried By the Wind, featuring six original electric guitar solos that offer a smooth, relaxed, and uplifting listening experience. This collection invites listeners to embrace the quieter moments in life and appreciate the subtle beauty of instrumental music.

A self-taught left-handed guitarist, Igor Lisul has been dedicated to music since childhood. Since his debut album, Pages of Our Lives, in 2020, he has produced numerous albums, EPs, and singles, showcasing his evolving artistry. Alongside his recordings, Igor has authored the e-book Guitar Ballads and developed his first guitar soloing course, School of Rock, available in both e-book and paperback formats.

Carried By the Wind opens with “Happy Clock,” a warm and gentle piece characterized by a tempo that mirrors the flow of time—starting brisk and gradually slowing down. The second track, “Happy Ending,” carries a bittersweet tone, reflecting the complex emotions that often accompany closure. “Tears of Joy” offers a more introspective mood, inviting listeners to a soulful contemplation, while “Wish” evokes a sense of daydreaming on a peaceful afternoon. “Along The Road” captures the feeling of a relaxed walk, exploring unnoticed details in familiar surroundings. The EP concludes with the title track, “Carried By the Wind,” a brighter and more upbeat composition expressing freedom and joy found in life’s simple pleasures.

“Carried By the Wind is a personal reflection of life’s quieter moments,” said Igor Lisul. “Each track tells a story that touches on emotions we all experience—from joy and nostalgia to hope and freedom. I hope this music brings peace and inspiration to everyone who listens.”

Carried By the Wind is now available on all major streaming platforms and for purchase through Igor Lisul’s official channels.
