

Jennifer Franks, MSN, APRN, AGPNP-BC: A New Leader in Weight Management at Medi-Weightloss Midlothian

Revolutionizing Health with Evidence-Based Solutions for Sustainable Weight Loss

Midlothian, Virginia Sep 10, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Medi-Weightloss Midlothian is proud to announce the addition of Jennifer Franks, MSN, APRN, AGPNP-BC, to its team of dedicated health professionals. With her extensive qualifications as an Advanced Practice Registered Nurse and Board-Certified Adult Gerontology Primary Care Nurse Practitioner, Jennifer brings a wealth of expertise and passion for patient-centered care to the forefront of the clinic's mission.

Jennifer earned her Master of Science in Nursing Degree from Chamberlain University and holds a Biomedical Research credential through the CITI Program. With this strong academic and clinical background, she is dedicated to delivering personalized, evidence-based weight loss solutions tailored to each patient's health profile and lifestyle.

Medi-Weightloss® is more than just another weight loss program—it is a comprehensive, evidence-based initiative created by physicians, registered dietitians, and healthcare experts. Designed for long-term success, the program helps patients not only lose weight but also maintain their results through continued support and education.

At the Midlothian clinic, services include the signature Medi-Weightloss® Program, medication management, diabetes treatment, vitamin and nutrient injections, and an adolescent program for youth ages 12–18. This holistic approach ensures patients of all ages receive the tools, resources, and professional guidance necessary to achieve and sustain their health goals.

With Jennifer's expertise and unwavering commitment to excellence, Medi-Weightloss® Midlothian strengthens its reputation as "The One That Works®", empowering individuals across the Richmond area to take charge of their health and embrace lasting transformation.
