in the Glen Burnie community since joining the clinic as Clinic Director in 2023. Kevin Yuen specializes in physical therapy, focusing on providing individualized treatment plans that aim to reduce pain, restore mobility, and enhance overall function for his patients.

With a Doctor of Physical Therapy degree from Ithaca College, earned in 2017, Kevin is equipped with the latest knowledge and techniques in physical therapy. He employs a diverse array of treatment modalities, including exercises, ultrasound, electrical stimulation, joint mobilization, heat, ice, massage, and dry needling. His ability to tailor treatment plans to the unique needs of each patient sets him apart in the field.

In recognition of his exceptional skills and commitment to patient care, Kevin was honored as one of the "Top Doctors in America" for 2025, received the "Clinical Instructor of the Year" award from Tufts University, and was awarded "The Journal of Medicine" "Best in Practice for 2025" in the same year. These accolades reflect his dedication not only to his patients but also to the advancement of the profession itself.

Kevin believes that successful treatment goes beyond merely addressing symptoms; it involves a deep understanding of each patient's individual journey. "I attribute my success to always focusing on patient-centered care," he states. "I look past the diagnosis and treat the whole person. Every patient I see reminds me of a younger version of myself who once needed physical therapy. I want to ensure that no one feels alone during their care."

Outside of his professional responsibilities, Kevin enjoys playing basketball, football, and disc golf, which helps him maintain a balanced lifestyle and connect with his community. His passion for sports and an active lifestyle also informs his approach to rehabilitation, where he encourages patients to engage in physical activity tailored to their capabilities.
