Herndon, Virginia Jan 3, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Tranzlatex, a trusted provider of professional and certified translation services, has announced a major price reduction that redefines industry benchmarks in Australia and abroad. The company has lowered the cost of its NAATI Certified

Document Translation from 69 AUD to just 59 AUD per document, making it the most affordable option in the Australian market. Alongside this, Tranzlatex is extending its reach internationally with standard translation services priced at 6.00 USD per 100 words.

This price shift is designed to benefit both individual clients (B2C)—such as students, visa applicants, and families—and business partners (B2B) including migration agents, law firms, and corporate agencies. By combining affordability with NAATI-certified precision, Tranzlatex is setting a new standard for translation services.

Challenging the Market Status Quo

Translation costs in Australia have long been a concern for clients who require official documents for migration, legal, or educational purposes. Competitors such as Australian Translation Services charge around 69 AUD per certified document, while Suyi Translation lists prices at 79 AUD—figures that align with the long-standing market average.

By reducing its price to 59 AUD, Tranzlatex is undercutting the market by 10–20 AUD per document. For clients handling multiple translations, such as families applying for visas or businesses submitting legal paperwork, these savings quickly add up. This move positions Tranzlatex not just as an affordable alternative but as a market disruptor.

Affordable Translations Without Compromise

Tranzlatex emphasizes that while prices are lower, quality remains uncompromised. Every translation is handled by NAATI-certified translators who ensure accuracy, cultural sensitivity, and compliance with official standards. Each project is also subjected to thorough review processes to guarantee the highest level of reliability.

For international clients, the 6.00 USD per 100 words pricing structure provides clear, transparent costs. Whether it's academic transcripts, legal contracts, or corporate communications, clients can plan their translation budgets confidently and avoid hidden fees.

“Our goal is to make certified translations accessible to everyone—whether you're a student, a family, or a business. By lowering our rates, we are removing financial barriers and creating opportunities for people who need accurate, certified translations delivered on time,” said Jerry, Project Manager at Tranzlatex.

Designed for B2C and B2B Clients

Tranzlatex's new pricing model is tailored to serve both individuals and professional partners.

- For Individuals: Migration applicants, students, and job seekers in Australia benefit directly from reduced costs. Required translations—birth certificates, transcripts, identity documents—become significantly more affordable without losing NAATI certification validity.
- For Businesses and Agencies: Migration agents, education consultants, legal firms, and corporate partners gain access to cost-effective certified translations they can confidently pass on to their clients. This enhances agency offerings, strengthens client trust, and improves competitiveness.

Speed, Flexibility, and Reliability

Beyond cost, speed and reliability remain core to Tranzlatex's services. Standard NAATI-certified translations are completed within 24 to 48 hours, ensuring that clients meet application and submission deadlines. For urgent cases, express services are available to provide translations in less than 24 hours.

Competitive Differentiation

While Australian Translation Services and Suyi Translation maintain prices at or above the industry standard, Tranzlatex's new rates signal a paradigm shift in the market. Clients now have access to NAATI-certified quality at a price substantially lower than the norm, making Tranzlatex the most cost-effective certified translation provider in Australia.

Internationally, the 6.00 USD per 100 words pricing further extends the company's advantage. In a global marketplace where per-word translation costs can be significantly higher, Tranzlatex's model delivers a strong value proposition for both individuals and corporations.

A Global Mission of Accessibility

The translation industry plays a vital role in enabling migration, education, and international business. Tranzlatex recognizes that high costs have historically limited accessibility, particularly for families and small businesses. By reducing prices while maintaining certified quality, the company is aligning its services with its mission: to make accurate, professional translations available to all.

This global focus ensures that Tranzlatex supports clients in diverse contexts, including:

- Visa and migration processes requiring NAATI-certified translations.
- Academic applications for students needing certified transcripts.
- Corporate expansion into new multilingual markets.
- Legal and medical documentation requiring precise translation.
