

Watershed Organisation Trust | Rejuvenating Communities & Ecosystems in India

WOTR (Watershed Organisation Trust) is an NGO in India focused on improving rural life. Through community-led programs, WOTR enhances land & water management and women empowerment, promotes sustainable agriculture, and improves livelihoods.

Rejuvenating Communities & Ecosystems

Pune, Maharashtra Dec 29, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - WOTR, or the Watershed Organisation Trust, is an NGO dedicated to fighting rural poverty in India. Established over three decades ago, WOTR works directly with local communities to restore degraded ecosystems and improve livelihoods.

By focusing on sustainable practices in agriculture, water management, and health, WOTR empowers people to take control of their environments. They run programs that support women's empowerment, enhance nutrition, and build self-help groups to foster financial independence. With a hands-on approach, WOTR has positively impacted millions, transforming lives in over 7,000 villages across 10 states and creating vibrant and sustainable communities for a better future. Donate today to support sustainable agriculture and livelihoods for women, building healthier and more resilient communities.

WOTR is a pioneering ngo for agricultural development, committed to transforming rural landscapes and empowering farmers across India. Since inception, we have worked hand-in-hand with local communities to implement sustainable agricultural practices that increase productivity, ensure food security, and conserve natural resources. We help farmers secure livelihoods while protecting the environment.

If you're looking for a genuine NGO for women in India, Watershed Organisation Trust (WOTR) is here to make a real difference. We don't just talk about empowerment; we help women build businesses, find their voice, and shape their communities. We have launched over 2,000 women-led enterprises, & formed self-help groups with about 1 lakh+ women members. For more information, contact us today!

Media Contact

Watershed Organisation Trust

@gmail.com

Pune-Satara Road,Padmavati Corner,

Source : Watershed Organisation Trust

See on IssueWire