

Getting to Know the Real Dr. Gregory A. Thomas:

A Family Man with a Purpose Bigger Than His Circumstances

COLORADO FIRST ALWAYS

FOR THE PEOPLE. FOR THE LAND. FOR THE FUTURE.

Denver, Colorado Nov 2, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Behind every great leader is a story of perseverance, heart, and faith. For Dr. Gregory A. Thomas, that story runs deeper than titles, campaigns, or credentials — it's a story about family, community, and unwavering purpose.

Dr. Thomas is first and foremost a family man. His wife, Corrina Thomas, describes him not just as a visionary, but as her anchor. "Greg has this rare kind of strength that doesn't come from power — it comes from peace," Corrina says. "Even when life hit hard, he chose to build others up instead of breaking down. That's who he's always been — a man whose love for people never wavers, no matter what the circumstances look like."

Those circumstances — including his ongoing incarceration — haven't dimmed his fire or silenced his faith. Instead, they've refined his mission. From within those walls, Dr. Thomas launched Colorado First, a grassroots movement designed to reconnect Colorado communities and remind people that compassion still has a place in leadership.

Colorado First is more than an idea — it's a movement rooted in service. Under Dr. Thomas's leadership, teams have organized mobile food banks to feed families across all 64 counties, proving that even in adversity, purpose finds a way to move forward.

A graduate of The Wharton School, Southern Methodist University, The King's University and the University of Texas, he holds multiple advanced degrees — including doctorates in Theology and Economics — Dr. Thomas blends intellectual rigor with a deep spiritual compass. His life bridges the worlds of business, ministry, and community action, creating a unique model of servant leadership that prioritizes people over politics.

Through every season, his message remains the same: “My circumstances may have limited my movement, but they will never limit my mission.”

Those who know Dr. Thomas see not a man confined, but a man refined — focused on restoring faith, family, and opportunity in every corner of Colorado. His story is a living testament that true leadership isn't about where you stand, but what you stand for.

As Corrina puts it, “Greg has always believed that community is an extension of family — and he loves this state like it's his own household. He prays for Colorado, he plans for Colorado, and he fights for Colorado — because to him, Colorado is family.”

About Colorado First:

Colorado First is a statewide grassroots movement founded by Dr. Gregory A. Thomas. Focused on faith, family, and community empowerment, Colorado First works to ensure that no Coloradan goes hungry or unheard. Through mobile food banks, local outreach, and statewide volunteer coordination, the movement's mission is simple: when we take care of one another, we all rise together.
