

Honored to Receive “Author of the Year” in Business & Entrepreneur at the International Impact Book Awards

Tampa, Florida Oct 15, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - This week marked an unforgettable moment in Hollywood for Dr Brian L Kent, who was honored with the Author of the Year Award in the Business & Entrepreneur category at the International Impact Awards.

Standing among so many talented authors and creators was an inspiring experience for Dr. Kent. Each story shared in the room reinforced the very reason he began writing — to create impact, inspire change, and spark meaningful conversations.

This award represents far more than recognition; it's a celebration of the readers, supporters, and community who voted, read his work, shared posts, and offered encouragement along the way. He extends heartfelt thanks to the International Impact Book Award committee for this honor and to every follower who continues to believe in his mission.

“When I began writing, I didn’t set out to chase awards. I set out to share ideas that make people think differently — about leadership, accountability, and what it really means to build something that lasts. This recognition affirms that message and pushes me to go even further.”

To fellow authors, he offers this encouragement: keep writing. Every story has the power to open minds, shift perspectives, and give someone the courage to keep moving forward.

Dr. Kent is already working on new projects, collaborations, and speaking engagements that continue the mission of helping others lead stronger, making decisions faster and grow with purpose.

For those newly discovering his work — welcome. Stay connected for behind-the-scenes insights, lessons learned, and updates on upcoming events through social channels or the newsletter.

This milestone is just the beginning of more growth, more stories, and more impact to come.
