

Scott A. Oakley, MS, LMFT, LCADCS, CAMC, DBT-C, Expands Oak Tree Counseling's Compassionate Care to NV & ID

Helping Individuals, Couples, and Families Achieve Balance, Purpose, and Healing Across Diverse Communities

Pahrump, Nevada Oct 23, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Oak Tree Counseling, led by Scott A. Oakley, MS, LMFT, LCADCS, CAMC, DBT-C, is proud to provide comprehensive mental health and addiction counseling services to clients across Nevada and Idaho. With a career spanning more than a decade in diverse clinical and community settings, Scott offers a client-centered, solution-focused approach that addresses the physical, emotional, psychological, and spiritual needs of individuals, couples, and families.

“I don’t fix my clients. I help them balance their physical, emotional, psychological, and spiritual needs, and work toward their personal goals,” said Scott. “If you need someone, I am here when things get weird in life.”

Scott’s professional journey includes extensive experience in hospice care, rehabilitation, psychiatric facilities, court-ordered programs, and small agencies, along with an internship at Boulder City Hospital. These experiences have equipped him with a deep understanding of diverse client challenges, from grief, depression, anxiety, and divorce to substance abuse, anger management, and life transitions.

Scott holds a Bachelor’s Degree in Religious Studies and a BS in Counseling Psychology from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas, as well as dual Master’s degrees in Counseling and Religious Studies from the University of Phoenix. He also holds certifications in Anger Management, Parental Training, and Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT), ensuring he can offer specialized, evidence-based support tailored to each client’s needs.

At Oak Tree Counseling, Scott incorporates a variety of therapeutic modalities, including Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT), Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT), DBT, and other approaches, all aimed at fostering resilience, recovery, and meaningful personal growth. His practice is committed to helping clients find balance, purpose, and peace amidst life’s challenges.

Serving communities such as Pahrump, Beatty, Amargosa Valley, Las Vegas, Henderson, and surrounding areas, Scott combines his expertise with a holistic perspective to support clients navigating mental health struggles, addiction recovery, grief, and everyday life challenges.

“Many of my clients are silently suffering,” Scott said. “My goal is to help them find balance, purpose, and meaning, and most importantly, peace from this chaotic world.”

With Oak Tree Counseling, Scott A. Oakley continues to empower individuals, couples, and families to overcome adversity, achieve personal goals, and cultivate healthier, more fulfilling lives.
